

TERROIR

Our aim are wines, that tell us about their origins.

Terroir means to us the triangle of soil, vines and us winemakers. We support the natural conditions. Our organic approach enables us elaborating the original features and to create premium qualities.

The loess soil gives our wines their fine delicacy, they present themselves with lightness and freshness, are elegant with body and density, without being too opulent. The limestone parts in the ground of the Rhine terrace gives our wines an intensive mineral character. This shapes the echo and gives our wines their profoundness.

In the Rhine valley are our vines on the raised sand ridge. Some of their roots reach into the deep-seated gravel parts of the former bed of the Rhine – there are ideal conditions for the distinct aromatics of the Scheurebe.

The character of our grape varieties express themselves ideal. Their respective styles (as a Gutswein or Großes Gewächs) are supported through different procedures for example fermentation guidance, yeast maturation and the factor time. So, we create individual, distinctive wines, that wear our signature and the differences in vintages are noticeable.
